Soviet Charges U. S. 'Infringes' On Agreements

Assails "Unilateral" Urging Of Bulgaria To Broaden The Sofia Regime

CITES AMERICAN NOTE OF FEBRUARY 22

LONDON, March 9.—(INS)—The Soviet government charged today that America's "unilateral" urging of Bulgaria to broaden the Sofia regime was an "infringement" of decisions of the Moscow foreign minsters conference.

The Russian foreign commissariat declared that the American note dispatched to Bulgaria on February 22 could "incite the Bulgarian opposition to act contrary to the decisions of the three ministers."

Statement Issued

An official statement from the Russian foreign office said:

"The commissariat received a note from the American embassy in Moscow informing it that on February 22 the State Department had presented to the Bulgarian representative in Washington a memorandum setting forth the position of the American government in respect to the execution of decisions of the Moscow conference regarding Bulgaria."

The Russian answer to the note pointed out that the Moscow conference decided that two Bulgarian ministers from parties not included

Churchill Believes Plain Talk Best Peace Foundation

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—Winston Churchill, outspoken war leader of Great Britain, returned to Washington today from a fast tour of historic Virginia, quite determined that plain talk about the postwar differences among victorious nations will lay the surest foundation for continuing world peace.

Churchill's latest call for an unofficial power union of the United States and the British empire to maintain peace—delivered before the Virginia legislature in Richmond—focused a strong light on the forthcoming meeting of the security council of the United Nations Organization in New York, set for March 21.

Russia Not Mentioned

The former prime minister failed to mention Soviet Russia by name in his Richmond speech as a too-aggressive nation in the postwar scramble which he did last Wednesday in Missouri with President Truman introducing him. But he repeated his appeal that 200 million Britons and Americans stand together "in defense of those causes . . . we believe . . . mean the honor and the happiness of long generations of men."

Herge's Trial Scheduled To Start Monday

Ellwood City Man To Face Jury Trial For Death Of Jean Fatur Last Fall

LARGE PANEL OF JURORS CALLED

Irvin C. Herge, 43, of Ellwood City, will start the battle for his life Monday morning, March 11, when he goes on trial in court room number one of the Lawrence County court house for the death of Jean Fatur, 20, on or about October 17, 1945. For a time it was thought Herge might enter a plea and let the court set the degree of the verdict. This has not happened yet, although he can always enter a plea, even after the trial starts.

For the case District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson has spent several weeks in preparation. Thirteen witnesses from Ohio and one from Detroit, Mich., have been subpoened and will arrive in New Castle some time Monday.

Brutal Crime

The crime with which he stands charged was a brutal one. On October 28, 1945, two fishermen, one from Napoleon, O., and his brother-in-law, from Detroit, Mich., were fishing in the Maumee river near Napoleon, O. They saw the nude body of a young woman snagged on some rocks in the river. They called Sheriff Fred H. Bartels at the body was taken to a morgue.

Postpone Rail Strike, Set For Next Monday

CLEVELAND, March 9.—(INS)—With the postponement of Monday's railroad strike, officials of two railroad operating brotherhoods in Cleveland prepared today for the fact-finding hearing in Chicago Tuesday.

The strike of 300,000 railroad employes was called off last night, several hours after President Truman had appointed a fact-finding board to inquire into the wage-rules disputes of the brotherhoods of railroad trainmen and locomotive engineers.

Messages Sent

President Alexander F. Whitney of the BRT and President Alvanley Johnston of the BLE dispatched telegrams to all of the general chairmen of the two unions informing them that the strike was postponed.

The telegrams informed the chairmen that the president had appointed an emergency board pursuant to the railway labor act to hear the dispute and that the strike "is postponed until you receive further official notice from us."

Whitney and Johnston said that the hearing will open at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Masonic Temple of Chicago. The unions will begin at that time to set forth the reasons for their demand for wage increases averaging 1 per cent and for 45 changes in working rules.

Cardinal Glennon Taken By Death In Dublin Today

Aged Prelate, For Years Archbishop Of St. Louis, Succumbs To Illness

WAS ENROUTE HOME FROM CONSISTORY

DUBLIN, March 9.—(INS)—John Cardinal Glennon died in Dublin at 2:51 a. m. (EST) today after serving as a member of the Sacred College of Cardinals for only 26 days.

The 83-year-old prelate, who was for years archbishop of St. Louis, Mo., succumbed to complications following an attack of bronchitis.

He died in Dublin, capital of his native Eire, en route home from the great February 18 consistory which elevated him to the rank of prince of the Roman Catholic Church.

The ailing cardinal was taken to Water hospital when his plane first reached Dublin, but he was removed to the home of Sean T. O'Kelly, president of Eire, when congestion of the lungs and uremia complicated his illness.

Assails Forcing Of Planned Economy Upon United States

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—The Truman administration was charged today with forcing a planned economy upon the public which would mean the end of "wealth-creating processes" in the United States.

Robert R. Wason, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the Pennsylvania Scotch-Irish Society in Philadelphia that the Democratic regime had "learned nothing about our economy" during its tenure.

Further Inflation-Debt

"It strives to solve its problems with further inflation and debt," he declared. "We watch the Federal government divide the wealth of the past to appease pressure groups while preventing the creation of new wealth."

"The fatal error of the administration reformers," said the NAM head, "has been their lack of faith in America, their belief that our economy was mature, that by producing less there would be more to divide among us.

Probe Death Of Night Club Waitress In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—Police today probed the death of a Philadelphia night club waitress whose body was found afire in her gas filled one-room apartment.

Detectives reported that the victim, Miss Elizabeth Davidson, probably was felled by the fumes from the range. The gas exploded, they said, apparently when touched off by a spark from an electric circuit.

She was lying partially clad on two chairs near the range, and firemen found her hair and undergarments ablaze.

The explosion shattered almost all windows in front of the building and started a fire which was brought quickly under control.

G.M. Strike Parley Adjourns To Monday

DETROIT, March 9.—(INS)—General Motors and UAW-CIO negotiators met with Federal Mediator James F. Dewey for 25 minutes today and adjourned until 2:30 p. m. Monday.

Negotiators were slow in arriving at the General Motors conference room and start of the session was delayed from 10:30 a. m. until 11:15.

Both sides appeared to be marking time until Monday when Labor Secretary Schwellenbach is expected to announce the course of action the government will follow in the dispute.

Red Cross Drive Raises One-Third Of Quota So Far

Division Chairmen Report $15,828 At First Report Meeting Friday

CHAIRMAN URGES GREATER EFFORT

Showing approximately one-third of the quota already raised, division chairmen of the Red Cross Fund campaign met in the Lawrence county chapter house Friday afternoon to report a total of $15,828 for the first week of the drive.

Some of the chairmen have not yet been able to obtain full reports from their workers, and others have divisions which are slow in getting started, pointed out Howard B. Cumming, campaign chairman.

Greater Effort Needed

Even greater effort on the part of the workers, and greater generosity on the part of the citizens of the county will be needed if the drive is to be a success, Mr. Cummings continued. Although the quota for New Castle and surrounding districts is only $42,600, and quota for the county as a whole is $52,900, the job of raising the money is

Merchant Seaman Confesses Killing Of Girl Companion

Body Of Young North Carolina Girl Found In Churchyard Following Slaying

GASTONIA, N. C., March 9.—(INS)—Police said today that a 20-year-old merchant seaman had confessed slaying pretty Inez Medford, 17.

They said their investigation led them to the sailor, Clement Whisnant, because of the seaman's kites in a handkerchief found around the girl's neck.

The body of Inez was found bruised and partially disrobed in a Gastonia churchyard Wednesday.

Police said Whisnant told them that he struck the girl with his fists and choked her when he found his wallet missing while in her company. He was quoted as saying:

"Then I got scared. Something told me to tie a handkerchief around her neck. I tied it tight and left."

Whisnant is held without bond on a charge of murder. He is scheduled for trial in Superior court, which opens a new term Monday.

Hold Couple For Slaying At Erie

Man And Woman Under Arrest At Savannah, Georgia, In Robert Fisher Slaying

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 9.—(INS)—Mike Dominick and Eleanor Tarbell maintained their innocence today as they awaited in the Chatham county jail for police to return them to Erie, Pa., where they are charged with the murder of Robert Fisher.

FBI officers said Dominick told them a man known as M. F. Dubna and Fisher left him and Miss Tarbell alone in an Erie house. Dominick said that Dubna, whom he also identified as James G. McFadden, returned with the announcement that Fisher's body lay in an automobile outside.

Officers said Dominick admitted dumping the body on an Erie golf course and covering it with leaves.

He said he and the woman were driving to Florida when they were nabbed in Savannah by FBI Agent D. K. Brown.

Pressure Is Not Being Eased By State Department

Russia Makes Charges Also In Latest Exchange Of Notes Between Nations

TRUMAN BELIEVES RUSSIA WANTS U. N. O.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—The United States today plans to continue pressure on Russia for an explanation of its action in removing Japanese war industries from Manchuria as "war booty."

This was made clear as the State department studied the latest exchange between Russia and the United States—a note which Russia said charged that the American memorandum to Bulgaria was a violation of the Big Three Moscow agreement.

Gives Partial Explanation

Russia gave a partial explanation Thursday of her dealings in Manchuria but this note was in answer to a request for information sent to Moscow by the State department on February 9. It did not answer charges subsequently made by the Chinese on Russian actions regarded by the United States as a violation of the "open door" policy. A second note was dispatched to Moscow Tuesday.

Secretary of State Byrnes told a news conference that the American embassy in Moscow had held up delivery of his Tuesday note on the theory that Moscow's earlier reply made its delivery unnecessary. Byrnes ordered its immediate presentation.

Many Developments

Byrnes' statement came at the end of a day crammed with international developments including the Russian attack on America's policy toward Bulgaria and Winston Churchill's renewed plea for closer Anglo-American collaboration.

President Truman meanwhile told a news conference that he is convinced that Russia will not go down a one way street in international relations, a course that might wreck

More Clothing Now Promised; Prices Higher

OPA Moves To Boost Supply By Allowing Increase In Textile Prices

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—Americans were promised more shirts, underwear, and dresses soon, but they will have to pay higher prices for them.

The government's new program to boost the production of these items and other urgently needed clothing is swinging into full stride.

First federal action to increase the output of scarce apparel is a double-barreled move to up the supply of low-priced fabrics.

The Office of Price Administration opened the way for the cotton textile industry to boost its production of these fabrics by authorizing a five to 10 per cent rise in textile prices.

Allows Relief

This action allows the textile industry relief from increased labor and cotton costs, which previously have made the manufacture of low-priced fabrics unprofitable.

It also means that Americans are going to have to pay more for the finished product because the OPA ed that the price increase may be passed along to the consumer.

Specifically, OPA spokesmen estimated that the retail price of shirts and dresses will go up to 10 to 15 cents and the price of shorts would advance seven or eight cents.

The spokesmen emphasized that although the cost of cotton clothing will rise, there should be a larger supply of this apparel available to the consumer.

Decision Soon In Pickets Limiting

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—The State Supreme court was expected to hand down "sometime next week" a decision on the Westinghouse Electric corporation's appeal of a common pleas court decision refusing an injunction limiting picketing at the company's plants in Pittsburgh.

Officials of the CIO-Electrical Workers union pointed out today that the Federal court ruling in Ft. Wayne, Ind., refused the General Electric Co. a similar injunction.

Meantime, the nationwide strike of 175,000 electrical workers moved into its 57th day without an indication of an early settlement in sight.

IN PREFERRED SPOT

CHICAGO, March 9.—(INS)—U. S. District Court will be a preferred spot on April 29.

The court will be asked to look over pictures of the "Varga Girl" in the $50,000 damage suit of Alberto Vargas vs Esquire Magazine, Inc.

Vargas, who signs his name Varga claims he was tricked into his contract by the magazine and is now overworked and underpaid.

His attorney, Earl Ewing, announced today he would introduced specimens of the Varga Girl "just to enlighten the court".

HERGE'S TRIAL SCHEDULED TO START MONDAY

the body but Sheriff Bartels had a drawing made of the girl's teeth and this was broadcast to dentists over the eastern United States. Dr. Carl Hayes of Ellwood City received one of the drawings and recognized it as the work he had done on the teeth of Miss Jean Fatur, an attractive young girl of Wurtemburg Heights, Beaver County.

Identifies Body

Dr. Hayes went to Napoleon, O., where he made the identification. This was in January.

Miss Fatur had been missing from her home since October 17 and Irvin C. Herge was also missing. By a coincidence Sheriff Bartels knew Herge when he was residing in Malinta, O., and he began an investigation. He learned that Herge had been in Malinta, Toledo, and had visited Chicago. A few days later Herge was picked up in Toledo but denied any knowledge of the crime.

Later, Mr. Donaldson says, Herge confessed to having killed the girl on the Ewing Park bridge in Ellwood City, stuffed the body in the trunk of his automobile and hauled it around the country for ten days before dumping it in the Maumee river.

Waived Extradition

Herge waived extradition and came back to this county with the officers and made several statements, some of which he signed, others being verbal, officers say.

There seems to be a strong possibility that a defense of insanity will be used for him and this will bring into the case a commission in mental health which was appointed at the request of his wife last August. At that time the commission examining him said he was sane but had a violent temper.

Herge had some brushes with the law in past years. He served a term from Beaver County for rape and served a term from Ohio for forgery. He is a married man with two children and is said to be an unusually skilled electrician.

A panel of 100 jurors has been summoned and of this 100 few have been excused and these only for excellent reasons. The case will be called first on the docket Monday morning and the selection of the jury should start by ten or ten thirty. If the jury box is filled by adjournment Monday it will be surprising.

The commonwealth will undoubtedly ask for a first degree verdict.

SENIORS CHALK UP ANOTHER HIT PLAY

piano, could easily have been overplayed, but Bill's interpretation was completely natural and effortless.

Supporting the lead, Erwin Albern was one of the most amusing characters in the play in his role of the high school principal's son who aided Herbert in building a float for the parade. He was by turns persuasive, belligerent and embittered as he treid to talk Herbert out of his love for the niece of the wealthiest woman in town.

The Lady In the Story

Miss Marcia Bollard's role, that of the neice who inspired Herbert's poetical effusions, consisted mostly of looking attractive—a feat which she accomplished very well. Her wealthy and determined aunt, who finally exposed the true villain of the play and cleared the boys of any guilt, was enacted by Miss Nancy Bechtol.

Miss Ilona Stevenson, whose throaty voice was one of the best assets of the play, turned in a polished performance as Herbert's occasionally hysterical mother, while talented Croy Pitzer chalked up his second fine performance this year as the harassed father who was almost ruined by his son's attempts to present him as a good sport. Croy did an excellent job with a similar role earlier in the year.

Thomas Sansone's portraval of the high school principal brought a howl of laughter as he entered, and it did not disappoint the audience later in the play. Still another amusing role, that of the daughter of the family, was played by Jeanne Lewis, who seemed to be enjoying her part immensely.

Villain Gets Indignant

The inevitable villain, a suave contractor who had been using inferior materials in order to underbid Herbert's father, was handled by Marshall Curran. When the boys' float, a duplicate of the school to be built by the wicked contractor, collapsed during the parade, the villain took it as a personal insult and started the fuss that ended in his own disgrace.

Action leading up to this climax involved Miss Joan Lelvo as the town's leading realtor, Florence Turner as the town's best music teacher, Robert Reed as a famous music critic and Katybelle Sherman as an indignant neighbor.

Between the second and third acts Charles Freese, president of the senior class, after which Croy Pitzer presented an orchid on behalf of the cast. Music between acts was provided by the senior high school orchestra under the direction of Joseph F. Replogle.

PRESSURE IS NOT BEING EASED BY STATE DEPARTMENT

the UNO and world peace, despite her persistent hold in Iran.

Other international developments included:

Some High Spots

1. Both Mr. Truman and Byrnes said they would attend the opening of the United Nations Security Council meeting in New York on March 21 if able to leave their desks.

2. The revelation that the U. S. will not seek postponement of the Rio de Janeiro conference of American foreign ministers, regardless of the outcome of the Argentine elections. It will accept the decision of the other American republics on the postponement question.

3. Discussions are going on with the British on the future joint use of defense bases but have not reached a point where any announcement can be made.

Awaiting Action

Still awaiting action on Byrnes desk were these questions:

1. Will the United States support French demands that the Spanish situation be brought up at the coming UNO council meetings?

2. Will the U. S. agree to the French proposal that negotiations looking to a unified control of German finance, traffic and other problems be taken up by the U. S., British, French and Russian foreign ministers at their council meetings in London?

In each case the answer was expected to be a polite "no."

in the Sofia regime should enter the Bulgarian government and work loyally.

Not In Conformance

The answer stressed the fact that no other decisions in regard to Bulgaria were taken at the Moscow conference.

The United States note urged that two "truly representative" members of the Bulgarian opposition be included in the government on a "mutually acceptable basis."

Russia charged that this request "did not conform" with the Moscow agreement and contended that Maynard Barnes, U. S. representative in Sofia, was "systematically instigating" the opposition of the left-wing government to "sabotage" decisions of the Moscow conference.

The United States document was sent to Bulgaria in an effort to bring about a speedy broadening of the Bulgarian government, thus paving the way for American recognition of that government.

Should Explain

Martin told a reporter:

"Mr. Byrnes, Mr. Patterson and Gen. Eisenhower will have an opportunity to give the American people and congress a clear and frank explanation of any secret commitments we may have with other nations. I think they should do so.

"It is impossible for us to decide such vital questions as the extension of the draft and universal military training unless we have this information."

Patterson and Eisenhower are being called before the committee to provide the members with information on the permanent peacetime size of the army, the size of occupation forces overseas and the number of voluntary recruitments under a recently-enacted law liberalizing enlistments.

would be repercussions from Churchill's recent utterances when the UNO security council reassembles less than two weeks hence. The combined attack lately on Soviet world policy by such personages as Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Churchill and currently official spokesmen for the British government, are almost certain to sustain a rebound at the New York meeting.

Some observers thought it significant that Churchill, in renewing his call for an Anglo-American understanding predicated on strong armed forces, was flanked at the Richmond address by two of the outstanding Allied military leaders —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Sir Henry Maitland Wilson. However, President Truman later would not commit himself on the proposed Anglo-American alliance.

We Must Rely On Ourselves

Gradually the people of the country are coming to the realization that despite the high purpose of its founders the United Nations Organization is not yet, by any means, approaching the high purposes for which it was founded. That this realization is healthful is not to be denied. If the American people were to sit down with a sigh of relief in the feeling that with the UNO completed, there was nothing more to fear in the way of future international discord, then we would indeed be heading for serious trouble.

The crafty and matter-of-fact Stalin has no illusions. Although he has subscribed to the United Nations Organization, he is telling the people of his country that Russia must make its armies stronger than ever "to assure security." Of whom the Moscow dictator is afraid he does not say. Certainly Germany and Japan will be capable of doing little harm for many years. There is no nation outside the UNO which Russia can possibly fear. Therefore, it must be that if Stalin mistrusts any other nation, it is one inside the international organization to which he subscribes.

It may well be that Stalin, as some of his critics think, regards the present peace as only an armistice in the struggle between democratic and totalitarian power. But at any rate, we would be very foolish to depend on the UNO for future security and neglect our defenses.

The disillusionment following the first UNO meeting is in itself a healthful sign, although we all want the international organization to succeed. But its success is by no means assured. So great an internationalist as John Foster Dulles said recently that the UNO in its first meetings seemed to be a vehicle for the airing of propaganda by the great power. They were, of course, constantly bringing forth their own selfish claims and criticizing the equally selfish claims of some of the other powers.

Mr. Dulles' blunt words are very timely. Certainly we are a long ways off from any successful international super-government to keep the peace.

In the meantime, we must not let our fond desires blind us to the actual realities. If we do, we will sink into dangerous unpreparedness for whatever crisis may be ahead of us.

Problem Of Belize

Britain may be eased out of Central America after clinging to the little colony of Belize (British Honduras) since the eighteenth century when Scots settled in the northeasternmost tip of Central America just below Yucatan. Guatemala has long laid claim to Belize and by clever manipulation has succeeded in putting it up to the United Nations whether the colony should remain British or should become a state in Guatemala.

British Honduras has an area of 8,592 square miles and a population of approximately 50,000. Guatemala has an area of 42,353 square miles and a population far in excess of 2,000,000. Guatemala has both Atlantic and Pacific coast lines. Belize is a notch in the Atlantic coast line.

Mexico is throwing the weight of its diplomatic influence in favor of Guatemala. At one time Guatemala was a state in Mexico, but it pulled away more than a hundred years ago. Relations between the two nations have become very friendly in recent years.

The British do not want to get out of Belize, but the colony has not been of benefit to the empire lately and it could be the cause of serious trouble. Infiltration of Central Americans into Belize has increased the native population over the British to such an extent that outside of goverment circles there is little left that is English in the colony.

Too Many Hands

General MacArthur's single and relatively unimpeded command in Japan is showing results that are far better than those produced by the four-way division of authority in Germany. Japan is organized now so that exports of raw silk, fabrics, tea, raw furs and other items will soon begin. These will pay for imports of scarce items into Japan. Japan will be on a self-supporting basis long before Germany.

All investigators of the German situation agree that conditions are bad. The four collaborators couldn't agree on what to do and as a result little was done. It is generally recognized now that a Germany converted into an agricultural nation can not be self-supporting and will be a handicap to all of Europe.

General MacArthur has been free to put policies into effect within a general framework of instructions from the United States government, and has done so. The result is that Japan will cease to be a burden on the United States long before Germany. Too many hands certainly have spoiled the broth in naziland.

Some Bright Ideas

A myriad of proposals introduced in Congress never catch the public eye because members are merely responding to the request of a constituent and do not press the issue to the point of controversy. In that classification may be placed the proposal of a Wisconsin solon of a three-cent stamp issue commemorating the birth of the Swiss cheese industry in Wisconsin. The chances are the Wisconsin proposal, if it were pressed, would be shot as full of holes as the Swiss cheese.

Other ideas in Congress which will hardly arouse breast-thumping fervor on the part of their sponsors or anybody else include a plan to designate the second Sunday in October as Old Folks' Day, October 31 as National Arthritis Day, the first Sunday in June as Shut-ins Day and the fourth Saturday in September as American Indian Day. Of the latter it might be remarked that the Indian has already had his day.

There is a bill to appropriate $500,000 for a shrine in Arlington cemetery dedicated to the Unknown Heroine of World War II. Another bill would require that at least 10 per cent of the players in major baseball leagues be persons who have lost one or more limbs. Whether the southpaw's glass arm would be included in that listing is not revealed.

It has long been known that you could lead a horse to water, but you couldn't make him drink. Now it becomes evident that you can give priorities for building cheap houses but you can't build 'em without the materials.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who was so generous he would give you the shirt off his back? Or more important, what has become of the old-fashioned shirt?

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS CHILDS

President's Advisers Not Universal Experts

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—On all the men in President Truman's oddly assorted inner circle, no one has more influence, and at the same time is less known to the public, than Admiral William D. Leahy.

It is not merely on military and diplomatic matters that the 70-year-old Admiral gives the President the benefit of his counsel. Often, in his dry, ironic fashion, he advises on political and economic issues as well.

Leans Heavily

The President has come to lean heavily on this counsellor whom he inherited from his predecessor. It had been assumed that Leahy would retire to private life after the death of his good friend Franklin Roosevelt. The other wartime leaders are either in retirement or are doing special jobs far removed from the center of power. But Leahy, who has a reserve and a taciturnity that serve as a barrier between him and most people, is today firmly entrenched in the White House.

This is a curious climax for an Annapolis man who, until 1939, followed the traditional navy career.

As the result of a friendship which had begun when Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy during World War I, came Leahy's assignment from President Roosevelt in 1939 to be governor of Puerto Rico. He won great popularity during his year in that office.

Ambassador to France

In 1940, Roosevelt made him ambassador to Vichy France. His instructions were to make friends with Marshal Petain.

This proved not in the least difficult for Leahy. The dour admiral, who knows how to unbend when circumstances call for it, and the gossipy old marshal became firm friends. Leahy spent hours in the marshal's suit in Vichy's hotel Du Pacr as the shadowy figures of France's collaborationist government came and went.

In fact, the admiral grew so attached to Petain that, after he returned to this country in 1942 to become the President's personal chief of staff, he refused to believe any evil of the old Marshal. Even later, when the story of Petain's foolish and scandalous behavior as ambassador to Spain became known, Admiral Leahy continued to believe that Petain had meant the best for France.

Petain, convicted of treason, today languishes in bored confinement on the little Ile D'Yeu in the Bay of Biscay. He will soon be 90 years old.

More Susceptible

Having had only a limited experience of world politics during his naval career, Leahy was probably more susceptible to the impressions he received during those two critical years in France than a man with a broader background would have been. The crisis between the extreme left and extreme right, which smoulders beneath the surface in France today, was then acute. Leahy's experience at Vichy may well have implanted his deep suspicions of Communism. There is no doubt that he has recently played an important part in persuading the President of the need to take a firmer stand toward the Soviets.

The new policy, first expressed in Secretary of State Byrnes' recent speech, was formulated in a series of White House talks that frequent-

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CONSISTENCY—PARENT'S BEST BET

Certainty makes it easy, doubt difficult, for the child to obey necessary regulations. As you must have observed, I have, in this column, constantly hammered on the virtue of consistency, of making your word good, whether it be a forbidding or a promise.

The more consistent we parents are, the more certain the youngster is of what will happen and the easier, therefore, for him to accept a decision contrary to his wishes. The less consistent we are, the more doubt in the child's mind that he will have to obey, and the harder, therefore, for him to do so.

Stop Annoyance

When, for instance the tot, three, is told to stop some annoying or destructive act, he may wait for the second, fifth or nth commanding before he stops. Perhaps he says to himself, "She's not mad enough yet; I'll wait till she yells louder." He even may wait for two or more shrieks.

But when at last he is sure the danger time has arrived, he quits, though as he does he may cry violently or fly into a rage. Had he known that the first word was final, he would have stopped with little or no emotional disturbance.

In case this tot is to sit in a chair for punishment and just told to sit there till you say he may get down, the doubt in his mind about the length of the sentence challenges him to plead, argue, cry or throw a tantrum, figuring he can make the penalty shorter, and often he succeeds. But if, on being sentenced, he is shown where the long hand of the clock will be when he may get down, all doubts should be removed, with the result that he bye and bye will take such punishment stoically and profit from it.

Good Example

HEARD AT THE ZOO

A huge elephant and a tiny mouse were in the same cage at the zoo. The elephant was in a particularly ugly and truculent mood. Looking down at the mouse with disgust he trumpeted, "You're the puniest, the weakest, the most insignificant thing I've ever seen!"

"Well," piped the mouse in plaintive squeak, "Don't forget, I've been sick."

TEEN-AGE PROBLEMS

"I have a daughter 15 years old who thinks she should be allowed to use powder and lipstick and have dates. As I am 55 years old, I don't quite know how to handle the situation. Just how can I make her understand that she is too young for these adult habits."

Answer: You cannot make her understand any such thing for she will insist on doing as other girls of her age do—which is simply what you have outlined.

Fifteen-year-olds today use lipstick and powder—even those from the best families. Of course, no reputable school would endure obviously made-up faces among such youthful pupils; but when the final bell is sounded, out come the lipstick, the powder puff and comb to give the boys a treat. Such is youth! Such will always be youth! You cannot pattern her girlhood on your own, for times have changed. Girls do the same old things as always, except that they start at an earlier age. I do admit that 15 is a little early for "dates" and they should be controlled.

Don't discipline your daughter too severely. Give her a free hand but watch her closely—see what she does and with whom. No 15-year-old should be permitted to run loose on the streets or in automobiles.

The mothers of young girls today have a difficult problem on their hands. But where have I heard that before? The older generation has been saying it about the younger generation ever since Adam and Eve set up housekeeping in the Garden of Eden.

Question: When one is sick for several months, should she wait until she recovers to acknowledge gifts and flowers or should this be taken care of immediately by a member of the family.

Answer: If there is someone who will attend to this, telephone acknowledgements at least might be made. Then when the patient recovers she should personally thank the donors.

U. S. Attitude On The Churchill Plan

WASHINGTON, March 9. POLITICALLY, this certinly is a queer country. For the last few weeks what amounts to a demand for a "firmer policy" with Russia has been made by eminent statesmen of both parties. The public reaction was almost uniformly favorable. Editorials generally took the view that the time had come to cease making concessions and insist on co-operation.

THERE is no space here to review the long series of difficulties with the Russians which have worn thin the patience of our representatives in the UNO and created apprehension that neither agreements, nor treaties, inside or outside the UNO, would end the insistent Russian push to acquire territory and power not in harmony with the principles and purposes of the UNO. The recent speeches of Secretary Byrnes and Senator Vandenberg were applauded as meaning that, convinced of the futility of placating, we were now prepared to be "firm."

EVERYBODY seemed to be for that, though no one appeared to know how our firmness was to be made effective. In brief, we had no plan. And then along came Mr. Winston Churchill, who, years before it happened, solemnly, though vainly, warned his own country of the approach of World War II and earnestly pleaded for firmness to avert it, with a suggestion by which our proposed firmness could be implemented. The Churchill suggestion is the only suggestion from any source for doing anything besides talk about firmness.

IN addition, the "special arrangement" for peacetime military cooperation which he proposed for the English-speaking nations is simple and logical—and it seems practical. Inevitable allies in war, we inevitably must be allies to prevent war—and are. Our great common desire for peace arrangement" Mr. Churchill suggests wholly natural and intelligent. It is the way to make our combined weight within the UNO far more potent than it is now.

IT seems an arrangement in the interests of permanent peace as well as in the interests of the English-speaking nations. It will make it far more difficult to bluff us or bully us. It has several other obvious advantages—such as an increased effectiveness in national defense at a decreased cost. It would strengthen rather than weaken the UNO and it involves no hostility to Russia with whom all the English-speaking nations want to be friends. It would reduce the ability of Russia to make a monkey of us and it would make the world more secure against war.

ONE would think that in the absence of any plan of our own to make our desire for a "firm" policy anything more than a desire, this Churchill plan would be welcome, indeed. Strangely, it seems not to be. Strangely, there seems a shrinking from it by the very gentlemen who have been shouting loudest for a "firm" hand with Russia. That was to be expected from the extreme radicals who always take the Russian view but it seems illogical and not very clever for those who are not so constituted. Yet senators and others who a few hours before were clamoring for firmness shrank from this realistic and practical plan—a plan, incidentally, which would be intelligent and logical even if the Russian attitude were thoroughly cooperative and presented no difficulties at all.

SOME of the reasons for senatorial shrinkage are serious and some appear silly. For example, the solemn bleat of one pro-Russian radical that Mr. Churchill is trying to cut the throat" of the UNO is not worth discussing. Other senators talk about our involvement in British imperialism" and "British colonial policies." There, of course, are questions here that would have to be worked out, but there seems no good reason why, if the obvious advantages of the "special arrangement" are conceded, the obstacles could not be surmounted by able men anxious to promote the same great purpose. Some way, surely, could be found by which we would not be committed to anything or involved in anything except joint military and naval strategy in the interest of world peace. At any rate, the agreement that we must not consider such a proposal because the Russians would not regard it as friendly does not seem too sound under the circumstances.

NOR is the contention that "we are not ready yet" a convincing reason it should not be considered. This strange shrinking from an idea which merely carries to its logical conclusion the natural alliance already existing between the English-speaking nations which see eye to eye concerning the great objectives to which the UNO is dedicated is typical of those who dislike to face realities. Obviously, the Churchill plan to make a firm policy possible is not going to be adopted here. There are too many who want to talk firm but not act firm. However, the plan remains the only plan. No one has any other. And the nature of most of the objections and the character of some of the criticism aret the best testimony to its merits.

Hoover Visit Indicates Dire Food Plight
Nation In Precarious Condition Is Belief
Lady Congressman's Hat Doesn't Stay Long

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Truman's call to former President Herbert Hoover and other business leaders for a food conference is evidence of the nation's "precarious" situation in regard to victuals.

High officials of the Department of Agriculture are convinced the only way for the United States to meet its commitments to starving Europe is for every American to eat 10 per cent less.

Many observers believe the United States has eaten "too much and too fast" since the end of the war.

They contend ration restrictions were relaxed too soon and that a poor crop year in 1946 could cause even greater food shortages than those experienced during the war.

They point out that the present rather ample supply of food is strictly temporary, that heavy marketing during the present feed grain shortage will lower the meat supply, and that overseas commitments will drain domestic surpluses.

Far-reaching decisions were expected at the food conference, and like it or not America in all probability is going to change its eating habits.

The White House does not want a return to rationing but a tightening of the belts all around is strongly indicated.

The World and the Mud Puddles

A VERY POOR BANKER

If Uncle Sam were in the banking business and running his institution in accordance with the law and sound practice, he might meet the requests of foreign nations seeking loans with a few pertinent questions.

He might say to Great Britain, asking for a small accomodation of six billion dollars:

"What security or collateral can you offer? What and how do you expect to make repayment? What sort of a statement of assets and liabilities can you make?"

With proper answers to these questions, Uncle Sam might reach into his files and pull out a yellowed piece of paper.

"By the way," he might add, "you still have a little note of some ten billion dollars here that has been overdue for several years. Do you think it helps your credit any to ignore an obligation of this sort?"

The same routine might be applied to Russia, with a gentle reminder of the fact that there are still several billions of repudiated bonds floating around this country.

Uncle Sam, of course, has no business running a bank. If he insists on doing it, however, he ought to be reminded that the funds he lends are the property of depositors—the taxpayers and bond buyers of the United States.

He ought at least to conform to the restriction and regulations he imposes—under strict penalties—upon real bankers.

Thus far he hasn't paid much attention to such restrictions and regulations.

Maybe, as the capital runs lower and lower, he will start giving them some thought.

LOOKING AT LIFE
By ERICH BRANDEIS

"Outlaw divorce!" suggests Judge Michael Walsh, of the New York State Supreme Court, as a cure for the 'social cancer" in American life.

This cancer is an outgrowth of the war, Judge Walsh thinks, and its symptoms are inadequate family income, forced separations, long periods of unemployment and poor housing.

He predicts that by 1965 one out of every two marriages will end in divorce unless divorce is outlawed.

In other words, the learned judge intends to cure cancer, as he diagnoses it, by putting a plaster on it. But his diagnosis is wrong.

The disease is not caused by inadequate income or unemployment or separation or poor housing, but by marriage itself.

Many of these thousands of marriages now going on the rocks should never have been contracted at all. They were part of the war hysteria and neither the bride nor the bridegroom had the slightest idea of what it was all about.

The only remedy for that kind of marriage is divorce—and perhaps, some day remarriage under saner and more propitious conditions.

But what Judge Walsh and many other advocates of the abolition of divorce overlook is that the very existence of divorce laws is a challenge to divorce.

It is easy enough to stay married if you can't get unmarried.

But to make a success of marriage when it is comparatively easy to get a divorce arouses the sporting instinct of the average American who likes to tackle a hard job and make a go of it.

When my wife and I were first married and we didn't think we'd last six months, there were so many differences in our taste, in our outlook, in our ideals.

We could have got a divorce; that would have been the easy way.

But we loved each other and, both of us being young and courageous, decided to make a go of it.

Don't think it was easy.

Every day she had to yield a little, and I had to yield a little.

But for every little we yielded we gained a lot—we gained in self-respect, in balance, in experience—and in eventual happiness.

Marriage is something like a ship. If it's just a sleek, streamlined, beautiful facing craft, the first rough weather will break it to bits.

But if it is a sturdy, solid, seaworthy craft made of honest timber, it will ride out even the fiercest storm.

Don't let us outlaw divorce. Let us build marriages of sturdier timber instead.

Money Confuses Women, Says Woman; Men Seem To Agree

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—Most men probably knew it before, but today was the first time women themselves ever admitted to being "complex creatures."

The admission was made by Mrs. BJ Kidd in an address before the annual Philadelphia Savings and Loan conference.

Believe it or not, here's what Mrs Kidd confessed about women:

(1) "Never in the history of the world has woman ever been known to want to save a single cent."

(A chorus of "amens" echoed from the men in the audience when Mrs. Kill voiced this declaration.)

Women Are What?

(2) "Women have special mental characteristics that are intuitive, subjective, identificationist, fantacist and guided by inner perception."

(Boiled down, all this meant, Mrs. Kidd said, that "women are far, far from being understood by men.")

(3) "Money is always a means to an end deemed desirable by the woman involved. Except in rare instances, it is never an end in itself."

Mrs. Kidd, author of a best-seller, "Just Like A Woman," continued:

"Men, with their greater abstract and intellectual powers of detachment, have thought up things like the combustion motors to please and mystify women—and things like the financial system to plague and confuse them."

(There was a noticeable expanding of chests about the auditorium when Mrs. Kidd threw this bit of praise towards the men.)

Men are shocked, she added, when they realize that "women have developed a financial inferiority complex and will go to great lengths to disguise and cover up this defect."

They Can If They Want To

Mrs. Kidd insisted, however, that while women may not "want to save a single cent," that did not mean that they "cannot and do not save plenty."

"It simply means that they want what they have persuaded or coerced themselves into saving form," she declared.

"Do not offer a woman an 'investment' when you want her to buy something," Mrs. Kidd advised. "Those particular meaningless pieces of paper, which men call shares or bonds, and which cannot be eaten, or smelled, or worn must be made attractive to her.

"If you want her to trade those convenient green pieces of paper—which can so easily be traded for the pleasantly real figments of feminine reality—for something abstract in the future, be sure she understands not what she must give, but what she will get."

And as a parting shot, Mrs. Kidd gave the women a chance to puff themselves up by pointing out that in the United States "women control almost half the nation's wealth and a good 0 per cent of its voting strength."

Inspiring Programs Arranged For Local Churches Sunday

Seventy Schools Now In Contest

Plaingrove Presbyterian Sunday School Is Last To Enroll In Campaign

GOALS OF CONTEST ARE PRESENTED

Seventy Lawrence county Sunday schools are now participating in the eight weeks pre-Easter increase campaign being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, and the last one to enroll was the Plaingrove Presbyterian. Like the other Sunday schools it got off to a fine start with an average attendance last year of 89, attendance March 3rd. of 131, which gave them 42 points and a percetnage of 472.

With the evangelistic emphasis the city and county have been receiving, it is highly probable that the good start that has been made will be continued throughout the campaign. The Sunday schools are well organized and are putting forth every effort to increase attendance and interest.

The New Castle Sunday schools that are participating for the first time are the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, the First Pentecostal, the First Congregational and the Bethany Lutheran. Some other Sunday schools are participating this year that did not participate last year. However, they had previously been enrolled in earlier campaigns.

The whole program of the church is touched by the four goals of the campaign which are an increase in evangelism, an increase in Sunday school attendance, an increase in church attendance, and an increase in Bible study.

Six of the eight districts comprising the County Sunday School Association, are participating, and Sunday schools from these remaining two may take part within the next week. The campaign has been a gradual development, as the first year it was put in operation there were only 11 Sunday schools enrolled. In every effort there are winners, but the purpose of this increase effort is the benefit the Sunday school attendance of Lawrence county as a whole.

THE GREAT DIVORCE EVIL
The marriage vow when once taken can NEVER be disannuled, but is binding on BOTH PARTIES "as long as both shall LIVE". (Gen. 2:24; Matt. 19:1-9; 1 Cor. 7:39). While the Scripture recognizes that separation may sometimes be justifiable (Matt. 5:32; 1 Cor. 7:11, 15), such separation does not nulify the marriage vow, NOR OPEN THE WAY FOR REMARRIAGE (1 Cor. 7:11). We believe that DIVORCE and REMARRIAGE while the former companion lives, CONSTITUTES ADULTERY, both on the part of the DIVORCEE and of the one WHOM HE OR SHE MARRIES. (Matt. 5:32; Luke 19:9; 16:18). The civil divorce laws which in their INCREASING LAXITY afford an EASY means for release from the marriage contract are in DIRECT CONTRADICTION with the teachings of SCRIPTURE and are subversive of GOD'S PLAN and purpose in the marriage relation. In the face of the GROWING PREVALENCE and DESTRUCTIVE EFFECTS of the DIVORCE EVIL, it becomes increasingly important that THE CHURCH adhere to the high standards of the WORD of GOD in order that the SECURITY of the HOME may be safeguarded and the sanctity of the marriage vow preserved. Any teachings, practices, or laws which would tend to UNDERMINE or OVERTHROW these sacred institutions (marriage vow) stand CONDEMNED in the light of GOD'S WORD.—Taken from the faith and doctrine as taught by THE BRETHREN IN CHRIST CHURCH.
NOTE: Send for FREE pamphlet entitled, "MARRIAGE, DIVORCE, REMARRIAGE" which explains the difference between FORNICATION and ADULTERY. Address all mail to BIBLE MISSION R. D. 2, NEW CASTLE, PA.
We specialize in teaching holiness of heart and life.

SERMON

The Church was established by Christ.

The terms of salvation are simple, easy and plain. The fisherman understood Christ's plan and became fisherman of men. They were plain men. God give us fishermen.

When one obeys the gospel that also admits one into Christ's church. "The church the fishermen were members of." THE LORD ADDED TO THE CHURCH DAILY SUCH AS SHOULD BE SAVED (ACTS 2:47). The Lord ADDED, not man.

1. Faith (belief) "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. (Mark 16:16).

2. Faith (belief). But without faith it is impossible to please Him (CHRIST), for he that cometh to GOD must BELIEVE that HE is—a rewarder of them that diligently seek HIM. (Hebrews 11:6).

3. Faith (belief). We are not saved by FAITH ONLY. We find the term FAITH ONLY in the new testament only once. (James 2:17). We read, "even so faith, if it hath not WORKS, is DEAD, being alone".

4. "FAITH ONLY" get saved by your RADIO, send in five dollars, we go by FAITH ONLY? Read JAMES 2:24, "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by FAITH ONLY."

5. Faith and Works. (James 2:18.) "And I will shew thee my FAITH BY MY WORKS."

6. IF FAITH (BELIEF) ONLY SAVES SINNERS THE DEVILS WILL GET TO HEAVEN BY FAITH ONLY. "THOU BELIEVEST THAT THERE IS ONE GOD; THOU DOEST WELL: THE DEVILS ALSO BELIEVE (FAITH ONLY) AND TREMBLE."

7. THE MURDERERS OF CHRIST BELIEVED ON HIM. (John 12:42-43). "Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many BELIEVED (FAITH ONLY) on HIM (JESUS); but because of the PHARISEES they did not CONFESS HIM (CHRIST), lest they should be put out of the SYNAGOGUE FOR THEY LOVED THE PRAISE OF MEN MORE THAN THE PRAISE OF GOD."

8. "FOR THEY LOVED THE PRAISE OF MEN". I wonder if that expression would typify some of our MODERN EVANGELISTS. I wonder!

9. WHAT ABOUT THIS STATEMENT, "THEY LOVE TO TALK FOR MONEY"! I wonder.

WASHINGTON REPORT

combs. She had taken a last satisfying look at herself in the mirror.

Then, only a minute before the House met, she was rushed to the office of Speaker Sam Rayburn (D) of Texas to be introduced to him in accordance with tradition.

Rayburn chilled hear heart. He told her that the rules of the House prevented women members from wearing hats during sessions.

Off came Mrs. Mankin's hat. She felt distressed because she hadn't paid particular attention to how her hair looked that morning, what with the excitement, the new hat and all.

Spectators thought she shouldn't have worried. Her softly curled hair fell nicely into place, hat or no hat.

Coal Wage Battle Seen

Government officials are fearful of a bitter and long-drawn-out battle when coal wage negotiations get under way.

John L. Lewis apparently is determined to make a finish fight this time on the issue of organizing mine foremen in the United Mine Workers union.

The coal operators will oppose this with all their strength and a prolonged strike may result.

On the wage side, Lewis is expected to demand a return to the miners' pre-war 35-hour week at the present level of pay for 54 hours.

Lewis, incidentally, already is wielding a powerful influence in the AFL, which he rejoined a month ago.

When AFL President William Green delivered a blast from the White House steps against restoration of wage controls, newsmen were puzzled. It was not like Green to be sounding off like that at the executive mansion.

Later, the information "leaked" that Lewis had a hand in the matter. Green's statement and the official viewpoint of the United Mine Workers concided almost word for word.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

him a quarter. Soon he runs to you for more money. You give him 20 cents but it doesn't last long. You argue with him before you grudgingly give him 15 cents more.

As the evening drags on he keeps on begging for money, both he and you more vexed at each other, with strained relations all the rest of the evening. If, instead, this lad at the beginning had been given a definite sum with the understanding that he would have to get along with this amount, there might have been a very happy evening for him and you. Besides, he would have gained good education from weighing and choosing from among the attractions in accordance with what he had to spend.

This principle applies, of course, to all sorts of budgeting and allowances. (My bulletin on allowances may be had in a stamped envelope.)

Also, this principle applies to the use of the car. Fortunate the youth who knows without doubt the date on which he may have his first driving experience, or the times he may use this car later. Think of all the needless irritations of parents when the young son or daughter drives, taking chances, exceeding speed limits, the parents merely complaining at his "going so fast" and "being so careless."

If, instead, he knew the speed he must not exceed and the definite cautions he must observe, and on the first violations of such, were removed from the wheel, this problem could be settled and the youth given some wholesome education. The worst builder of doubt and destroyer of obedience in the child and good feelings in him toward his parents, is the tongue which runs without a governor-belt.

ly found the President expressing sharp irritation over Russian maneuvers. He did not conceal from visitors his resentment of Soviet conduct.

Discussed Address

The President, incidentally, went over the text of Winston Churchill's Fulton, Mo., speech before it was delivered. The two men discussed in considerable detail the history-making address.

It is when Leahy's advice touches on domestic policy that his role is most resented by others close to the President. In moments when his patience snaps, National Democratic Chairman Robert Hannegan has been known to blow off on the subject of the kind of advice the President heeds.

Current rumors have Hannegan resigning. If that happens, as it may, one reason will be the National Chairman's feeling of frustration when he walks into the President's office and sees the little circle on whom the President relies.

In their own special fields, some of these advisers have great knowledge and capacity. Leahy for example, knows as much about the conduct of the war on the very top level as any living American. He was present at all the important conferences.

But these advisers are not universal experts. When they step outside their specialized fields, they are capable of bungling. That is something the President has still to learn.

More Rumors Of Cabinet Changes

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—President Truman had the usual crop of rumors of resignations of top officials in his administration to answer Friday at his news conference, and all such questions brought denials.

This time it was Secretary of State Byrnes and Postmaster General Robert Hannegan, who also is chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The president said as far as he knew that neither one were going to retire from their jobs.

Strike Results In Small Plant Ending Business

Liggett Spring & Axle Company At Pittsburgh Quits Business Due To Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—A small steel fabricating plant—the Liggett Spring & Axle Co.—went out of business today after negotiations with the CIO-Steelworkers Union crumbled.

President Charles E. Dexter, Jr., made his decision after 182 employes refused to cross a picket line to attend a company meeting at which Dexter said he was going to accept the union's 18½ cents an hour wage increase demand.

Dexter reported he was willing to grant the hourly increase and distribute a $5,000 bonus after 60 days of operation, providing the union withdrew its demands of vacation allowances, retroactive pay and a productivity clause from the contract.

In a letter to Louis Tomayko, union official, Dexter assailed the union for bringing in "outsiders" to picket the plant and said the full responsibility for the closing of the plant must be assumed by the steelworkers' organization.

The union contended that all but five of Liggett's employes attended a meeting Thursday night and voted —with one exception—not to attend the company meeting.

Today will be the last time for young men to apply for enlistment into the Marines at the local office as the recruiting station here will move to another city the first of next week.

NO INCREASE LIKELY

Although Mercer county has raised the pay of election boards from a minimum of $5 to $7 per day, it is unlikely such action will be taken here. Just at present the commissioners are trying to find about $100,000 to cut off proposed expenditures in order to balance the budget.

Election board officials are paid a minimum of $5 per day with one dollar being added to each hundred votes cast over one hundred or fraction thereof.

TOMSKI GETS SOCKED

Edward Tomski, a Lawrence county man, really got it in the Beaver county courts this week. Tomski had pleaded guilty to the robbery of a service station in Morado and the judges took little time to straighten it out. Tomski drew from 10 to 20 years in the penitentiary on each of four counts of burglary, the sentences to run concurrently.

Joseph Cratti who was with Tomski must have had some extenuating circumstances to offer for he was placed upon probation for three years, ordered to pay $325 by way of restitution and ordered to stay out of Beaver county for five years.

Albert Copple who was also implicated in the burglary, and who pleaded, was not sentenced pending some further investigation in his case.

St. Mary's Sodality Hears Lent Address

Rev. Fr. Ignatius Koller Speaks On Use Of Penance During Lenten Season

Singing of the hymn, "O Mary My Mother", opened the regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Sodality, held in the church at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, March 7, and presided over by Prefect Peg O'Leary. After opening prayer by Director Fr. Koller, Mary Lowers led the recitation of two decades of the rosary and then all sang the hymn, "O Come and Mourn".

Fr. Koller in addressing the Sodalists on Lent used "Unless you do penance you shall perish" as the basis of his instruction.

Eucharistic committee, Eleanor Vallely reminded Sodalists of the March G. M. I., "For Our Fathers" and also she asked all Sodalists to attend mass and to receive holy communion during Lent. For March the following will be in charge of the altars: Nell Vallely, Kay Schooley, Clara Wadlinger, Nancy Lehman, Honora Cunningham, Peggy Murphy, Eileen Kearns and Rita Rogan.

Calling particular attention to the feast of the annunciation, and since it is the prima primaria Sodality titular feast, all Sodalists from St. Mary's will assist at the seven o'clock mass and receive holy communion in a body Monday, March 25. Mary Lowers of Our Lady's committee reminded Sodalists to say their decade of the living rosary daily, this month's intention being "For Vocations".

The Catholic truth chairman, Mary Irene O'Connor, suggested books and pamphlets available for Sodalists to take home and read on the various vocations. Gretta Logue of the apostolic committee talked on vocations. Fr. Koller also spoke on the subject. He specified that in a religious vocation three things must be kept in mind: the call from God, fitness for the community, and ecclesiastical approval must be obtained. He also stressed the other vocations, that of married life and the single state, bringing out similar requisites for teaching and nursing.

Peg O'Leary asked Sodalists to accept "Casualty Day" by assisting at mass and offering communion on each Wednesday in Lent for the boys who gave their lives in World War II. Dolores O'Leary, who was chairman of the "welcome home" dance held Shrove Tuesday, was selected as girl-of-the-month for March. This selection is made by the central council of the Sodalist doing the most outstanding work during the month.

The recitation of the memorare brought the meeting to a close, to meet again April 11.

Agreement Averts Another Threat Of Nationwide Phone Strike Late Friday

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—The menace of a nationwide telephone tie-up was finally removed today with settlement of the 65-day-old Western Electric strike.

The settlement was reached only a few minutes before a time limit beyond which the Western Electric Employees Association had threatened to seek revival of a nationwide phone tie-up similarly averted at the 11th hour early Thursday.

Federal Reserve Head In Favor Of Loan To Britain

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—Marriner S. Eccles, head of the Federal Reserve System, told Congress Friday that despite inflationary effects America must share some of its scarce goods with the rest of the world.

He declared that the government should retain control of exports throughout the postwar period of inflationary pressures.

Eccles testified before the Senate Banking committee in support of the proposed three billion 750 million dollar loan to Britain. He said:

"The risk of default exists.

"Neither this loan agreement nor any other economic arrangement into which we now enter can survive a world wide economic collapse such as we suffered in the first depression.

"But if world economy is restored to health, payments on this loan amounting to no more than two per cent of Britain's annual expenditures abroad, cannot be judged burdensome."

Eccles termed the loan "a blood transfusion to an anemic nation."

He said Britain "sick" because she threw all her resources into the war. He declared:

"The proposed credit should not be judged as a commercial loan. It is more like a draft on a blood bank."

War is Never Over for the RED CROSS

They need your Red Cross today—and for many tomorrows!

THEY lie in hospitals, thousands of our finest—sick, cruelly maimed. Who is to write their letters, hear their troubles, answer when they call for "Mom"? Mom can't be there. But your Red Cross can, and must be there.

Many thousands more Americans, still overseas, must count on the Red Cross for comfort and cheer. So won't you give to the Red Cross? This is your chance to say, "Thanks, Soldier, for all you've done!"

your Red Cross must carry on.. GIVE!

WORSHIP NYLON CALVES

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—The Rev. James R. Cox, Pittsburgh priest, today accused the nation of worshipping "nylon calves."

"Worship of gold and women," the priest said, "is fast making this a pagan nation. We are drifting from the teachings of God just as the chosen people under Moses forgot God in the wilderness and worshipped the golden calf."

The way we understand it, the shortage of butter will become better before it gets better.

You Never Need To Ask, How Shall I Ship It?

Whether your merchandise is going to the next town, the next state or across the continent you never need to ask, how shall I ship it? When you ship by truck you know your shipping point is connected with the destination.

There are thousands of communities in the United States served only by trucks. Every one of them is linked to your home city by the motor truck network.

The mobility of the service, the safety and the certainty of delivery are only part of the reasons why you should "Ship By Truck".

Have you given to the Red Cross? You can't afford to miss it.

An Honorary Degree
—for the housewife!

"If I were handing out honorary degrees, I'd confer a Doctor of Cleanliness on American housewives. After all, most of our working days are spent chasing dirt—washing dishes, scrubbing floors, cleaning the house, laundering clothes and linens, and—at least a dozen times a day—washing grubby little faces and hands."

It takes expert organization to accomplish all these jobs and keep the household running smoothly. The greatest aid to the "Doctor of Cleanliness" is plenty of hot water, with outlets located conveniently in the places where she uses it most.

The State Police Say:

Safety has been defined as the freedom from danger. Just how free from danger we are on our highways is reflected in the daily press accounts of highway accidents. Safety is also a state of mind. The individual driver must condition his thinking to safe operation at all times before we can achieve freedom from danger. The pedestrian too must condition himself to the belief that his safety is his own responsibility.

Korak Hopes To Set Down Pozzy Who Kayoed Butnovitch Here Recently

EIGHT BOUTS ON CARD; WOMAN TO BE JUDGE

Having trained assiduously, Al Korak of Rochester and Bill Pozzy of Ellwood City will taper off tomorrow then rest until they crawl through the ropes Monday night in The Arena to box three rounds. They are light-heavies.

Judging from interest in the coming eight settoes, the top role having been awarded Messrs Pozzy and Korak, there'll be few, if any, empty seats in The Arena. And further, a woman will act as a judge of bouts for the first time in this city.

Pozzy stepped into the Arena ring a couple of weeks ago and although outweighed 15 pounds, knocked George Butnovitch, Aliquippa, bowlegged and groggy and the referee stopped the fight while said George was yet on his feet.

However, the unbiased fan will attest, no doubt, that it would have been unsportsmanlike for the third man to have let the contest continue. George thinks otherwise and hopes his training partner, Korak wins.

Fans caught only a two minutes and 40 second glance at Pozzy but during the 160 seconds he moved and punched like a pro and if Korak is better than Butnovitch the fans can look forward to a real Evening's Evenin'.

There should be plenty of action in the other seven bouts. Amateurs fight from bell to bell. They may not know all the niceties of the art of hit and escape being hit, but they do swing 'em from the floor, ceiling and hip.

Most of the boxers on the card are hefty and any time a tape-wrapped fist, encased in a glove is backed by 147, 160 or 175 pounds of leverage, anything is apt to happen. Indications are there will be some knockouts.

The semi-final will find Rex Brennan, Pittsburgh Dapper Dan club welterweight champion, opposed to Bobby Mason of Youngstown, at 147.

Jimmie Maloney, who has scored victories here, will take on Battling Lapinsky of Beaver Falls at 150.

Verne Nulph, experienced amateur, will box Billy Parks of Rochester at 150.

Cos Comforti, Ellwood City, will make his second bow here when he steps into the ring against Willie Lockett of Youngstown at 128.

Lapinski, Parks, Brennan, Mason, Lockett and of course Korak, will be boxing here for the first time as will:

Ralph Kinkila, Youngstown, vs Nick Cunaci, Beaver Falls, 160.

Carl Brennan, Beaver vs Buzz Brauninger, Youngstown, 147.

Larry Polce, Rochester, vs Eddie McQuillan, Youngstown, 160.

The Jefferson A. C. is staging the bouts under the supervision of the State Athletic commission and AAU. The referee is appointed by the State Athletic commission. Neither the club nor attaches of the bouts have any jurisdiction in naming a referee.

It is likely that Sam Leyshock of Farrell, who has officiated here, will again be the third man with one of the judges being a woman, Mrs. Bette Wingert. According to reports, she was a boxing judge in Ohio before moving here.

Penn State will play Fordham University and the University of Miami in football for the first time in 1946.

Post-war Bout Shows Montgomery Lacks Form He Displayed In Pre-war Days

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—Bob Montgomery's first job in Philadelphia was in a laundry, and it looked in Madison Square Garden last night as if he was right back where he started. In short, washed up.

Pre-war boxing champions have been faring badly since returning to ring action, and against the youthful and inexperienced Tony Pellone, the New York lightweight champion of the world certainly was no exception to prove the rule. He was bad. He was terrible. He was awful. But he won.

Plan To Discuss Baseball Fields

A representative meeting of citizens of New Castle will be held at the American Legion Home on Wednesday, March 20, at 8 o'clock, for the express purpose of discussing what can be done about getting suitable baseball fields here in New Castle.

Leo W. Hill, will have charge of the meeting as chairman. Several influential citizens have lined up back of the movement to get a few baseball fields worthy of playing on in this city. Some definite action is bound to result from this called meeting, Hill stated.

New Castle is far behind other cities in the matter of suitable places for the boys to play baseball and football.

County All-Stars Wallop Croton A.C.

Score Is 63 To 36 Friday Night At Mt. Jackson Floor, Shaffer Stars

Coach Ted Brinkley saw his "dream team" County All-Stars in action last night in a city-county warmup game at Mt. Jackson floor and witnessed his chages running up a 63 to 36 count on the Croton A. C., another tourney entry.

Three of the Wampum players, Marich, Capalbo and Kanagy, failed to show up, so Brinkley used four of his Mt. Jackson High stars in the game, along with Shaffer, Tanner and Badger, and as usual New Wilmington's pride and joy, Clyde Shaffer, breezed in with 16 points to be high man, followed by Badger with 12.

All-Stars Hot

Apecelli of the Croton team had 12 points to lead his team in tallying. The County All-Stars looked good and will be hard to lick in the coming tourney at the "Y".

The All-Stars led at the first period, 16 to 8; at half time 26 to 17, and the third period 35 to 23, dumping in 28 points in the final period, with Kerr and Badger getting "hot".

Boxing Commission Names Montgomery

HARRISBURG, March 9.—(INS)—John W. Montgomery of McKeesport, had an appointment today from Gov. Edward Martin as a member of the State Athletic Commission at $5000 a year.

Montgomery succeeds the late Matty B. Bain of Uniontown. Bain died September 18, 1945. If confirmed by the Senate at the 1947 General Assembly, Montgomery will serve a two-year term.

Two More Players Home From Wars

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—(INS)—Two more former big league baseball players were home from the wars today, ready to trade the world's battlefields for the diamond.

They are Pfc. Kirby Higbe Brooklyn Dodgers ace, and Sgt. Vernon Bickford, who is on the payroll of the Boston Braves. Both landed at San Francisco yesterday aboard an army transport.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla., March 9.—After 10 years of darting across Major League home plates Bob Feller's famous fast ball has lost some of the crackling speed that caused it to be called the nearest thing to lightning ever seen in baseball.

The opinion on the Cleveland Indian star's pitching was expressed today by the veteran Paul Richards, No. 1 catcher of the Detroit Tigers in their rush to the world championship last season.

Now Using Curve

Richard's qualified his statement to the extent of saying that Feller might not have been bearing down with his fast pitch as much as usual in 1945 because he joined the club late after nearly four years in the Navy, and used a curve ball extensively.

Richards added:

"But off-hand I can think of two pitchers who seemed last season to be faster than Feller in the American League—Hal Newhouser, of the Tigers and Bill Zuber, of the Yankees. And maybe others.

"I'll say this, though, Feller has come up with a good, big curve and an occasional slider. In fact, for a pitcher who had been inactive, I thought he threw too many curves."

Has Seen Plenty

Richards has looked at a considerable amount of good and bad pitching in the major leagues and minors since he came up to the Brooklyn Dodgers from Waxahachie, Tex., high school in 1926.

He went from the Dodgers to the St. Louis Browns, then back to Brooklyn, then to Minneapolis, from there to the New York Giants, then to the Philadelphia Athletics, and to Atlanta as catcher-manager and back to the majors in 1943 as Tiger backstop.

Schumacher Toughest

Through it all, he is convinced that the toughest pitcher he ever caught was Hal Schumacher of the Giants "because he threw a low sinker ball, and the easiest to catch was Carl Hubbell," also of the Giants.

Richards said:

"No Hubbell's screwball wasn't hard to catch. He had fine control and that always makes it easy on a catcher. He also got men out quickly which helps to keep a catcher on his toes.

The worst possible pitcher to catch is one specializing in a knuckle ball. Those knucklers will danged near drive a catcher crazy.

Richards said there isn't much you can do with a knuckle ball except hope for the best, and it is still worse in night games.

Knuckle Ball Worst

"And another thing," he said, "if a knuckle ball is a pitcher's best pitch that is the thing to call for even in a close game with a runner on third. You might as well signal for him to take his best hold and take a chance on the runner scoring on a passed ball, instead of having the pitcher lay one in there for the batter to hit."

The best pitcher in baseball, says Richards, is Newhouser, the current leading star of the Tigers. He has speed, a fine curve ball, a slider and he's smart. He also works hard to improve his fielding and hitting.

KPULASKI cage team has been further strengthened by the acquisition of two more Westminster stars, big Stan "Fish" Wasik, regular center on this season's Titan quint, and Dick Fair, who cavorted on both the Geneva College and Westminster courts. Pat Patterson, Union high floor coach, has also been seen in the K. P. lineup the last two contests. . . It is believed John (Tex) Maskelevich, six foot two inch forward on the Valley Forge Military Academy basketball quint has set an all-time record as a result of his 61 points scored against William Penn Prep of Newcastle, Del. The South River, N. J., lad whipped in 30 field goals and one charity throw for his stratospheric total. Besides, he didn't play in the last seven minutes of the game. His team won, 85-58.

Artie Levine-Jimmy Doyle fistic affair at Cleveland, Monday night, has been designated the "fight of the week". More than 12,000 fans are expected to crowd into The Arena. Doyle reigns a seven to five favorite. LeRoy Jackson and Ced Flournoy, Cleveland and Detroit feathers are in the six round semi-final. . . . Ross Leffler, president of the state game commission, has announced the reopening of the game department's training school for field personnel some time this spring. It is now an approved institution under the GI Bill of Rights and Leffler reports veterans applying for enrollment will be given exceptions in the maximum age requirements and examination credit. Examinations will be held in Harrisburg either late in April or early in May. Only bonafide residents of the state for three or more years are eligible.

Indications are that Tut Tabor who Billy Conn boxed with in Europe and whom both Johnny Ray, manager of Conn, believed a middleweight championship potentiality, will be shipped back to the Pacific coast, following two defeats. Here & There believes Conn could have picked Russell Baxter for his training mate and made no mistake. . . . Hugh Devore has arrived at St. Bonaventure College where he is director of athletics. He was welcomed to Olean by Mayor Thomas Gustafson. He served as coach at Notre Dame during the absence of Frank Leahy. . . . Captain Tom Hamilton, USN of Columbus, O., is now at Annapolis where he is head football coach for the Middies. . . . Indications are there'll be another big crowd at the Arena fights Monday.

K. Pulaski's "Big Five" cagers took a 37-31 game from the Homewood Board of Trade five at the Westinghouse high school gym in Pittsburgh last night, with Freddy Wimer leading the attack with 13 markers.

The locals led at the half, 17 to 14, and outscored their opponents in the second half, 20-17. Hyat was the big gun in the Homewood attack, garnering 15 points for the evening.

One of the leading teams of the Pittsburgh district will be at the K. P. hall Sunday when the Kittanning Davis Five comes here for a battle with the local club. The tip-off is slated for 3:30 p. m.

Eight Teams Accept Garden Floor Bids

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—All eight teams are lined up today for the national invitational basketball tournament which starts at Madison Square Garden next Thursday night.

Rhode Island, the last team to accept a bid, has averaged 78 points a game this season while winning 18 games and losing two.

Other entrants are Kentucky, West Virginia, Muhlenberg, St. John's, Bowling Green, Arizona and Syracuse.

Brilliant Field For Derby Race

Nominate 149 Colts, Geldings And Fillies For Running Of Rich Kentucky Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 9.—(INS)—A total of 148 colts, geldings and fillies were nominated today for the 72nd renewal of the $100,000 added Kentucky Derby, to be run May 4 as historic Churchill Downs.

In releasing the list of nominees for the mile and one-quarter "run for the roses", Col. Matt J. Winn, president of Churchill Downs, looked for a record-shattering crowd of 100,000 spectators to watch the pick of the nation's three-year-olds vie for the fabulous stakes.

To the winner will go approximately $10,000, depending on the final number of starters. Second-place money in this year's enriched derby will be $10,000, $5,000 to third and $2,500 to fourth.

Very Fine Field

In looking over the ranks of the entrants, Winn said today:

"It is a brilliant field of racehorses, based on their two-year-old performances, and the horses certainly have the racing background to provide one of the greatest of all renewals of the derby."

Winn's statement was supported by the fact that all but two of last year's leading two-year-olds have been entered by the 38 owners who paid a $50 entrance fee for each horse and will pay another $1,000 for each ultimate starter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Maine Chance Farm still was the leading nominator with six entries, including such proven performers as Colony Boy, Lord Boswell, Star Pilot and Knockdown.

First Penn Stater to greet Football Coach Bob Higgins on his Pacific tour was Lieut. Jackie Tighe of Scranton, pre-war Lion boxer. Tighe was in Hawaii as coach of the Jap-Korea Olympic boxing entry when Higgins landed. They both planned to fly to Japan together.

Aldo Cenci of Scranton, former Penn State football blocking back, is still as mysterious as ever about his weight. Just out of the army, he says he weighs "no more, no less". In college days, he weighed anywhere from 230 to 260.

Horatius Q. McGiverly Is An Old-Fashioned Man

He likes old fashioned comfortable chairs, and dinner is a noon meal at his home. Six o'clock PM means supper, and he shaves with a straight razor.

He believes in old fashioned virtues too. One of them is that you should get a dollar's worth of service for a dollar spent. But Mr. McGiverly was almost to the point where he thought that idea had been parked in moth balls.

Then he brought his car to us for repairs. He knows now that there are modern shops with old fashioned ideas of service and courtesy. That's why Mr. McGiverly is now one of our regular customers.

Vets Training To Be Discussed

Veterans Administration Advisor Will Address Legion Post Tuesday Evening

What the returning war veteran of the New Castle community is entitled to in the way of on-the-job training, vocational assistance and other education will be explained to members of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at its meeting Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Legion social rooms on Neshannock avenue. The speaker will be Clyde W. Gleason of the U. S. Veterans Administration at Pittsburgh.

Mr. Gleason, who is connected with the advisement division, in an address here last week stated that the surface has merely been scratched here in New Castle in regard to the possibilities of this program, and he will go into the program in detail at Tuesday night's meeting.

Lunch will be served following the program. Commander Leon A. Drumm announces, and a large turnout is expected, as accommodations are available for over 500 people in the social room auditorium.

Spring Plant Has Large Backlog Of Orders On Books

Standard Steel Spring company is seeking to purchase a plant, rather than build one it was stated today by R. C. Enos, president, in a pamphlet report. The new plant will be for the purpose of expanding bumper manufacturing capacity and on the books of the company is a large backlog of orders.

"While several sites have been inspected, there has been no definite decision yet" he said. Under present conditions, including strikes in industry and material costs, operations may be unprofitable, it was pointed out. Mr. Enos said the results should be satisfactory when there is some clarification of existing confusion and some easing of restrictions on operations.

Sugar Probe Is In Short Recess

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—The Federal Grand Jury investigating Pittsburgh's sugar black market was in recess today after hearing the testimony of 10 witnesses.

Hagan Refuses Big Ten Comment

Pitt Reported Ready To Take Big Ten Berth As Chicago Drops Out

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan refused for the "umteenth" time today to comment on the possibility of the University of Pittsburgh joining the Western Conference.

The rumor bobbed up again today after the University of Chicago announced it was withdrawing from the conference.

Since 1939—the year Dr. John B. (Jock) Sutherland resigned and, incidentally, the last time Pitt has scored a victory over a Western Conference rival—the Panthers have been mentioned for a berth in the league. Some observers claimed Pitt's "de-emphasis" program was part of a probationary period before the local school would be accepted by the conference.

Philadelphia Has Big Sports Show

PHILADELPHIA, March 9—(INS)—A sportsmen's show featuring nearly every phrase of the great outdoors met with an enthusiastic reception today by Quaker City fans who saw it open its eight-day run at Convention Hall.

The extravaganza lumped everything from field and stream to badminton and ski-jumping in a 14-act spectacle which provided thrills for thousands who attended.

Exhibitions included log-rolling, trap-shooting, deep-sea angling technique, casting, archery and live-bird field dog retrievers.

A huge aquatic tank was erected in the center of the floor for the water sports program, while thousands of items of sports equipment were placed in lobies for display between acts.

Reds Can't Solve Missing Riddle

TAMPA, Fla., March 9.—(INS)—The Cincinnati Reds, who call themselves a mystery ball club because they have such an abundance of untried players, literally have a mystery when they ask where's Elmer?

No one knows the answer to the riddle.

Red officials revealed today that the one-time sensational hurler, Elmer Riddle, hasn't declared himself a hold out, but has not showed up in spring camp, nor will he reply to letters or telegrams.

Riddle hit the headlines in 1941 when he scored 19 wins against four defeats. He then won 21 games in 1943, but hurt his arm in 1944 to be virtually useless the last two seasons.

Three Clubs Angle For Peanuts Lowrey

AVALON, Calif., March 9.—(INS)—Three clubs, the Cincinnati Reds, the Phillies and the Chicago White Sox, today were reported angling for "Peanuts" Lowrey, Chicago Cubs holdout outfielder.

The Reds are interested in Lowrey's .283 batting average last season and may be persuaded to include their star shortstop, Eddie Miller, in trade talk for the Chicago player.

WIFE FILES CHARGES

LOWER MERION, Pa., March 9—(INS)—J. Wesley Smith, 50, prominent manufacturer and airport operator, was under $1,000 bail today on charges by his 28-year-old wife that he ousted her from their Montgomery County farm home after kicking her downstairs.

The complaint, Mrs. Evelyn Smith, told police she was clad only in a slip when he allegedly beat her following a party.

Story Of Girl In Slaying Of Father Upheld

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—Two young men corroborated the story of a pretty, 19-year-old girl who told police she shot her policeman-father with his own gun after he "cursed and beat her" for keeping "late hours".

The men, George Herwig and Charles McCarthy, both 23 and both from Pittsburgh, told police they brought Evelyn Warnock and her sister, Betty, 22, home from the movies and were standing on the girls' front porch when Patrolman William J. Warnock came out and swore at Evelyn and grabbed Herwig by the collar.

It was after the boys left that the girl shot her father during a tussle.

Browns Defeat Pirates 13 To 6

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 9.—(INS)—The St. Louis Browns chalked up their third win in four starts against the Pittsburgh Pirates today by clubbing three Buc hurlers for 21 hits to fashion a lopsided 13 to 6 victory.

The Pirates were enjoying a three-run lead when Pitcher Jack Hallett lost control and gave up six runs in the fourth frame. He was charged with the loss. Catcher Frank Mancuso homered for the Brownies.

Foreign vessels have received the most publicity, but actually nine out of ten American soldiers have been brought home aboard vessels flying the U. S. flag.

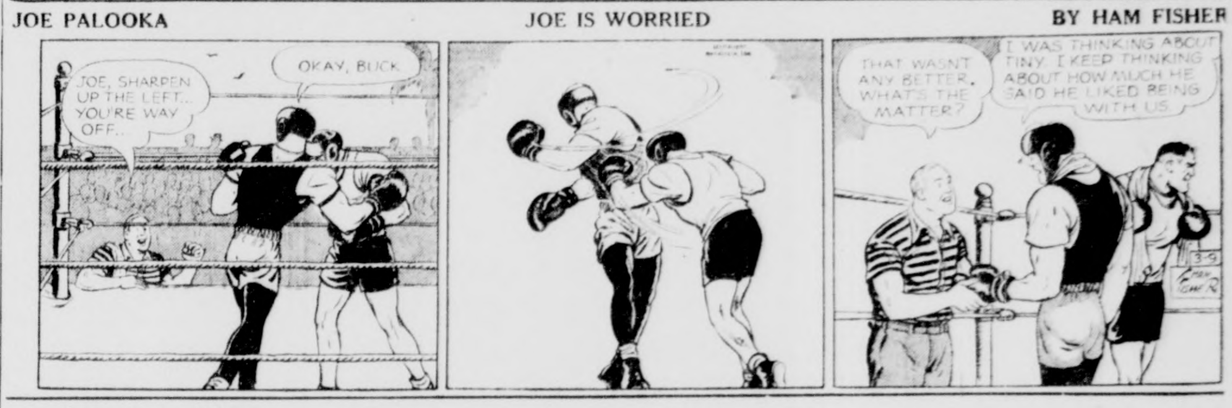

Snake charmers ascribe their powers over snakes to some constitutional peculiarity, and say the power is often handed down in a family.

A 12 per cent increase in serious crimes in New York state since June—based on fingerprint records—was estimated.

Crisis In France Somewhat Lessened

PARIS, March 9.—(INS)—The black pessimism which has gripped French political circles because of the current government crisis over nationalization issues today was lessened somewhat.

Some cheer was brought to the scene with the widespread opinion that even if cabinet members aligned with the popular Republican movement decide to withdraw, the crisis may be short-lived.

Government spokesmen explain that withdrawal by PRM members might lead Felix Gouin, interim president, to replace them with new ministers from either Socialist or Communist ranks, thus avoiding resignation of the whole cabinet.

NEW PRODUCT

TOKYO, March 9.—(INS)—A new product was introduced on Tokyo's famous "Ginza" today.

Workers who have not yet returned to work may sign for their compensation next week, and should begin receiving their checks the following week. All claims should be filed at the U. S. Employment office in New Castle, or, for Ellwood City workers, at the employment office in the Municipal building of Ellwood.

Soviet Desires Science Pool To Improve Our Lives

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—Leading American physicists studied today a radiogram from Soviet physicists looking toward a pooling of scientific efforts "to improve human life".

The radiogram was dispatched by Dr. J. E. Frenkel, world famous Russian scientist, to the American Physical society, comprised of leaders in the field of atomic energy. Their reply was not available.

Received months after the dropping of the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the message was disclosed in a monthly publication by the American Institute of Physics, Lancaster, Pa., and New York City.

Frenkel spent considerable time in the United States prior to World War II when he became well acquainted with a number of American physicists.

Message To Friends

He addressed the following message to "friends and colleagues in America on behalf of Soviet physicists and myself in particular":

"We hope that the spirit of hostility and distrust which has lead to misuses of scientific discoveries for destructive purposes will gradually subside, and that Russian and American scientists will be able to cooperate in their common efforts to improve human life."

"We shall be happy to exchange our ideas with our American colleagues not only by sending reprints or our published works, but also by discussing various topics in statu nascendi (just developed) at international conferences and private meetings both in this country and America."

In urging "closer contact than before the war," the physicist declared that the global conflict "was due a great deal to lack of such sympathy and understanding between our countries in the past."

Another Mystery Fire Is Reported On British Ship

LONDON, March 9.—(INS)—Another mysterious maritime fire aboard a British vessel resulted in the death of one man and injuries to 24 others in the English Channel today.

While officials launched a thorough investigation into a mysterious blaze aboard the giant liner Queen Elizabeth, the minesweeper Steadiast caught fire off Dover following a reported explosion.

Seven of the injured are on the danger list.

Extraordinary measures were taken to prevent additional fires. A special radio warning was sent to the liner Queen Mary, due to dock shortly.

When the 20,000-ton liner Orontes neared Southampton, the pilot turned over to the captain a sealed package containing anti-sabotage instructions.

Traffic Bell Working Today

Traffic Bell At Washington And Mill Streets Rings Every Time Light Changes

Extra precaution to prevent accident to pedestrians today commanded considerable attention at Mill and Washington streets, a bell ringing every time the traffic light changed from red to green and vice versa.

The bell was installed by order of Mayor John F. Haven as an added safeguard against any one being struck by an auto.

The bell is not sufficiently loud to annoy but, is loud enough for pedestrians to hear above the roar of traffic.

Pedestrians watching the light start with the green when the bell sounds and stop on the sidewalk when the light shows red when the bell rings again.

Mill and Washington street is one of the heaviest traffic intersections in the city and the bell will go far to help keep pedestrians out of danger providing they obey the light and bell.

SPANISH DOCTOR DIES ON GALLOWS

Weathy Dr. Manuel Estebanez Dies For Poisoning Of Pregnant Wife, Had Paramour

MADRID, March 9.—(INS)—Dr. Manuel Estebanez, wealthy Spaniard who was convicted of poisoning his pregnant wife in 1944 to clear the way for his romance with a pretty nurse, died on the gallows today.

The execution marked finis to one of the most bizarre crimes in Spanish history.

His trial attracted international attention, especially so when the original hangman refused to carry out his assigned task because he was a close friend of the doctor. Another hangman was summoned from a distant province for the execution.

At the trial it was revealed that Estebanez' paramour was unaware of the death plot.

It was testified that Estebanez prepared a special capsule containing strychnine mixed with calcium and planted it in the medical kit of the doctor attending his pregnant wife. The doctor administered it under the impression it was a routine treatment.

The true plot was revealed later, however, when the pharmacist who sold the strychnine to the doctor prompted an investigation, and the body was exhumed for an autopsy.

Armstrong declared that OPA's price action last night completes the government's agreement on wages and prices in the industry. He said: "The plants will be turned back to their owners as soon as things are running smoothly."

Armstrong gave no definite date on the plants' return to private operation.

Grandmother Weaver Of Brooklyn Has Crossed Ocean 35 Times By Ship

She is Mrs. Emilie Weaver, and she is headed for Copenhagen, Denmark—a 3,518-mile flight—to visit two daughters she hasn't seen in six years.

At La Guardia Field, where she boarded the plane, the little old lady, who has 15 grandchildren, was thrilled almost beyond words. So excited was she that she arose at five a. m. and rushed to the airport long before the scheduled departure time.

"Afraid?" Mrs. Weaver scoffed. "I'm never afraid of anything. I'm thrilled. This is one thing I want to do before I get too old. And I'm going to fly back.

"I was frightened 50 years ago when I made my first trip by boat. But I've outgrown being scared."

Mrs. Weaver, of course, lives in Brooklyn.

Asserts Competition Will Cease To Exist

CLEVELAND, March 9.—(INS)—Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge asserted today that unless the trend toward monopoly is reversed in American industry competition will cease to exist.

Berge in an address before the Cleveland City club cited the necessity for vigorous enforcement of the antitrust laws.

He declared the tobacco, lumber, and iron and steel industries are examples of monopolistic trends. He added:

"In another generation, unless the trend is reversed, there will be no opportunity for a businessman, no matter how ingenious or well financed or daring he may be, to enter any of the hundred or so basic industries in this country, except by the tolerance and patronage of the three or four companies controlling the entire industry.

"In other words, competition will have ceased to exist in this country."

BO BY FRANK BECK

Cross-Country Auto Tour Provides Many Liability Problems

WASHINGTON, March 9—What's that? You're going to drive across the country and write pieces for the paper as you go. Ah, my my, my!" said H. Gabriel Murphy in mournful tones of impending doom. "That's bad, my boy, that's bad. That changes your classification from A-1 to B. Tsk! Tsk!"

Instinctively I flinched. Whenever H. Gabriel takes that tone of voice, somebody inevitably suffers—and it's seldom the big, bluff Irishman himself. In the old days when he was director of athletics at Georgetown university, it was usually the opposing team that cringed when Gabriel blew his blues horn. Now, since he's discovered pessimism more profitable in the insurance pedding business, it's your pocketbook that takes the pounding.

But the Dixons are made of stern stuff.

"Look, Gabriel," I said in austere dignity, "leave us cease and desist the sob stuff. Also the classification comments. You are my insurance broker—not my draft board."

Not Draft Status

"Ahh, but my boy," said Gabriel with the sad air of a man inevitably doomed to be misunderstood: "'Tis not your draft status I'm discussing. 'Tis your auto insurance. Didn't you know that when you start making long trips, and especially if you go for business reasons, your auto insurance costs more?"

"No!" I snapped. "I didn't. And if this is another of your hidden ball tricks—"

"Ah-h-h, now . . ." began Gabriel in a pained tone, with a hurt look on his face. Then, too overcome by the very thought, he ceased expostulating and continued explaining.

"You see, you've been in class A-1 up until now. That meant you drove your car less than 7,500 miles a year and it was never driven by anyone under 25 years of age. Now, class A is a combination of business and pleasure driving which means you must pay a ten per cent higher premium than class A-1, but class B means you're a business man driving your own car and that costs you 30 per cent more for your premiums. So, you see . . ."

Compromise Effected

At first I didn't, but naturally I finally did, although Gabriel compromised on class A—pleasure and busines—which was only ten per cent higher.

All of which brought up a lot of statistics about insurance, the post-war world and would-be tourists—all delivered in Gabriel's best locker-room, between-the-halves fashion.

There has been an upsurge, both in auto insurance generally and in its premiums since V-J day, due to the end of gas and tire rationing and the increase in motoring. In the District of Columbia, for instance, insurance rates went down about 30 per cent during the war, due to the curtailment of motoring. When the war ended, they were raised to the pre-war level.

In addition, more people are liability conscious nowadays, possibly because they have enough money in the bank to be worried about losing it all in event of accident.

Compulsory Insurance

Also, more and more states are adopting compulsory liability insurance laws. Already there are several in which you cannot operate a car without such insurance.

Having clarified that phase of what every motoring tourist should know, Gabriel cleared his throat.

"There are a lot of other kinds of insurance every traveler should have," he said. "That liability policy just covers the other guy's injuries in case of an accident. What about his property? What about your own injuries—and your wife's? What about your car? You should have a collision policy to replace that. What about fire and theft?" (By now he was shaking his finger as though I'd fumbled in the end zone.) "What about the valuables you take with you, and those you leave at home? You should have a 'floater' policy for them to be safe. And what about accidents out of the car—falls down steps or in the bathtub?"

Gabriel paused dramatically. I didn't answer, but sat there, head in hands, a beaten man.

"Do you know," continued Gabriel in sepulchral tones, "that one person in every nine is injured accidentally each year? Why, between 6 o'clock and midnight tonight 7,000 people will be killed or injured! Right this minute, one accident is happening every three seconds! And on a trip such as you're taking, you're twice as likely to get hurt or killed. You must have an accident policy."

I'm going to let the wife drive. It's the only way to get even.

OTTO LORENZ

Otto Lorenz, noted economist, market analyst, management engineer and outstanding authority on consumer credit, will speak to members of the Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, and Wolves clubs, at a dinner meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock, March 12, under the auspices of the New Castle Kiwanis club.

Mr. Lorenz, who is a consultant of various trade associations, banks, and finance companies, is also a member of the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, and over the past four years, has lectured constantly on managerial and economic problems related to banking and the public, and is considered one of the outstanding authorities on these and related subjects.

In addition he has written extensively on these subjects in trade journals and magazines of this country. He is a staunch booster of installment buying, and believes it will have a tendency to curb the cashing in of war bonds to buy automobiles and other consumer goods.

St. Vitus Sodality Conducts Meeting

Vocations Theme Of March Meeting Of Young Ladies Sodality In Convent Hall

Prefect Angeline Verditto opened the meeting, followed with prayer by Sister Mary Hildegarde, the sodality moderator. The hymn "Mother Beloved" was sung accompanied by Josephine DeMase.

An interesting letter to the sodality from Sister Mary Lucretia, the former Carmeitta DeLuca, was read by Frances Corio. Sister Mary Lucretia was a former sodality member and received her habit into the order of the Missionary Zelatrices of the Sacred Heart at New Haven, Conn., recently.

For March, the mass intention will be for fathers, and March 19 will be observed as Catholic Father's Day. Members were urged by Rita Cherby of the eucharistic committee to receive communion with their fathers at least once during the month. She also asked the girls to keep up their acts of self-denial and special prayers during Lent. A calendar for perpetual communion for the month was distributed and members selected a day to hear mass and receive communion. Theresa Marrone gave a review on the life of St. Joseph whose feast day is on March 19.

Against a green and white shamrock-decorated background a statue of Our Lady was attractively displayed by Rose and Mary Chill. Margaret Naples gave an interesting short story "The Annunciation" which is on March 25.

A bulletin board on reading material for vocations and Lent was arranged by Anne Turco of the Catholic truth committee. She also had pamphlets on vocations selected for the group and displayed.

Helen Mastrangelo gave the sick list report and suggested Lenten sacrifices. For the apostolic committee, Sister Hildegarde gave a well-received talk on vocations. She explained the vocations of life and stressed special prayers to Our Lady to help us find our own vocation.

A report on the Valentine party was given by Margaret Naples for the social life committee. Rita Natale thanked Margaret Naples and Helen Mastrangelo who were in charge of this successful affair.

The publicity committee dedicated its bulletin board for March to vocations and advocations. Under the direction of the committee head, Julie Terranova, Mary Jane Litrenta, Mary Jane Noviello and Nancy Julian aided with the display. One interesting board was made up of cartoons depicting various jobs and careers. Other displays were on priesthood, sisterhood and careers for girls. The current issue of the sodality bulletin, "Our Lady's Voice" was distributed.

The prefect reminded all officers to attend the I. C. U. S. meeting on Sunday, March 10, at St. Joseph's church. Installation of new officers will be held at 2:00 p. m.

The closing prayer was led by Sister Hildegarde with special vocation prayers by Helen Mastrangelo. The closing hymn concluded a very interesting meeting to meet again on April 12. Also present at the meeting was Sister Genevieve, the Mother Superior of St. Vitus church.

Five Pounds Of Canning Sugar Stamp Designated

OPA Announces That Spare Stamp No. 9 Is Good For Canning Sugar March 11

Housewives can get five pounds of canning sugar, beginning Monday, March 11, by the presentation of spare stamp number nine in Book 4, J. Lee McFate of the OPA said today. The new sugar allocation is in the nature of a surprise dividend. The stamp is good through October 31.

There is a possibility that another stamp will be good in June or July but this is not definite. Housewives who have ration book four will find spare number 9 in it. Service men will find it in the single sheet sugar ration book issued them upon their return from service.

The sugar issued on Monday is for canning only, nothing else and housewives will be required to certify that it will be used only for canning. But it's a little help anyway.

Pittsburgh, March 9.—(INS)—Spare stamp No. 9 in ration book No. 4 miladies, will be worth five pounds of sugar, beginning March 11.

The above news comes to you today through the courtesy of the Office of Price Administration with but one reservation—the sugar should be used for canning purposes only.

Under the new arrangement, the OPA feels that the confusion resulting from making application for canning sugar, as was the case last year, will be eliminated.

OPA officials hurried to point out, though, that an increase in consumer sugar cannot be contemplated at this time, what with the uncertainty of the Cuban production and the amount to be held for war-stricken areas.
